

Johan Tældeman

Polarisering

Abstract

This contribution completely focusses on the phenomenon of ‘polarization’ and the creation of ‘hyperdialectisms’ in the traditional dialects of Flanders. Polarization engenders processes of extreme divergence among adjacent dialects. It is preconditioned by a certain awareness of the polarizing opposition and a negative attitude towards the ‘foreign’ dialect (or dialect feature).